Greetings to all our families in 1400 A, from Mrs. Edna and Ms. Rebecca. Once again, we hope everyone is staying healthy and safe. We will continue to post weekly newsletters on the West Haven Community House website. Let’s all think Bugs! Ms. Edna posted some great ideas on ClassDojo.

With the weather improving and it starting to feel like spring, we hope everyone can get some outside time and enjoy the weather.

Some activities this week you all can try are the following:

- Insects, Bugs, and Creepy Crawlers Themed Yoga Pose Ideas. (This can be done inside or outdoors.) Some of the poses you can do are bee pose, grasshopper pose, ladybug and butterfly pose. Follow this link to see how to do the activity.

- Bee Pollen Counting Activity: You will use an empty egg carton, yellow pom poms or yellow paper rolled into balls, dice, and if you have kid friendly tweezers on hand you can use them. Follow this link to the activity.

- Paper Plate Ladybug Art Craft: You will need a paper plate, red and black paint, paint brush or they can paint with hands. The red paint will be for the lady bugs body and let dry, then they can use their finger prints to make the black dots on the lady bug and if you have black paper you can cut it into two strips and glue it to the plate to make the antennas and half a circle to make the head. Follow this link to the activity.

- Reading is always a fun activity to do and there are books out there about bugs. If you don’t have one at home just have your child pick one of their favorite books and curl up together and enjoy reading the book. Here is a link for a read aloud book about bugs on YouTube: Bugs! Bugs! Bugs!
